Dear [Hiring Manager],

As a Master's student in Computer Science at Saint Louis University with a strong foundation in AI, cloud technologies, and full-stack development, I'm eager to apply my academic training in a professional setting. My coursework in Cloud Computing, Data Structures, and AI has been reinforced by real-world experience through internships at OpenText and Samsung PRISM R&D, where I contributed to application development and audio processing innovation.

I'm highly motivated to collaborate on cutting-edge projects and gain further exposure to applied research and product development. I bring with me strong problem-solving skills, adaptability, and the enthusiasm of a continuous learner.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Vigneshwar Reddy Gangireddy
